Enhancing Lives is Our Passion!

Keep your plants Fresh and healthy longer

Bringing nature indoors!

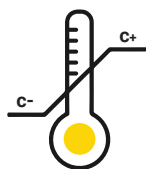

Light

Light requirement depends on the type of plant. Some plants require lots of direct sunshine, while some require it in moderation or indirectly. Whereas few plants don't need sunlight at all, like the air plants.

Watering

Know your plants before you buy them. Some plants love water and need it everyday, while some may need it weekly or every 10 days. The top soil might always look dry, but it might not be dry inside. Use a water meter or dig your finger atleast an inch inside the soil to check if your plant needs water. If it's wet, don't overwater them, else the roots will be damaged.

Temperature

Room temperature is the most optimum temperature for your indoor plants.

Humidity

All plants love humidity! If your plant is kept in a very dry place, try to include a humidifier close to it so that your plant stays and looks healthy.

Fertilizer

During the main growing season, use diluted fertilizer once every month. During the cold season, plants go into the dormant mode, and therefore don't need fertilization.
